

All Oz Cards releases OzOnDeck – order now for Christmas

Sunshine Coast, Queensland

After nailing the Christmas Card market last year, when Prime Minister Julia Gillard chose Celeste Brignac's design from the Oxfam range, Brignac has now released the perfect Christmas gift for the corporate, tourism and "beer 'o'clock" markets: OzOnDeck.

OzOnDeck is the result of tireless research in watering holes across Australia, and this unique set of casino-grade playing cards offers the ideal pastime with the rellies once the Christmas feasting is done.

"People love the theme," said Brignac. "Locals grin at the familiar language and visitors to Australia pack a few decks in their bag to use as gifts once they return home.

There's nothing precious about Brignac's art. Instead, she captures the laconic wit of a nation, pairing it with down-to-earth images of Aussie culture.

Brignac believes "It's time to promote interactivity between people, and what better way than the revival of the time-honoured game of cards."

All Oz Cards will deliver further themes in coming months, and actively supports Kiva.org, donating ten cents per deck of cards to the micro-lending website that empowers individuals to lend to an entrepreneur.

What could be more "true blue" than a game of cards with your mates, knowing that you're supporting an extremely worthy cause in the process? Merry Christmas!
